Famous Dubrovnik people

Ivan Gundulić (1589-1638) was born in Dubrovnik, as the oldest son of Fran Gundulić and Dživa Gradić. He was educated in Dubrovnik, and after that he became a member of the Grand Council in 1608. Twice, in 1615 and 1619, he was a rector in Konavle. In Dubrovnik he performed mainly the jobs of a lawyer. He received the nickname Mačica (which means a small cat), because he lived a peaceful and withdrawn life. In 1628, he married Nika Sorkočević with whom he had three sons. His literary work began with his dramas written in verses, and probably with poems. The most common verse in Gundulić's works is the octosyllable, and the most common stanza is the quatrain, however other forms also appear (the double dodecasyllable in rhyme). Ivan Gundulić earned literary fame even during his lifetime, while in the revival period he received the status of a canonical writer of old Croatian literature. His most famous works are Dubravka, Osman and Tears of the Prodigal Son. Given that he died at the age of 48, he missed the opportunity of being chosen as the rector of the Dubrovnik Republic, because only those older than 50 years of age could be chosen as rectors.

History of beer

Beer is one of the world's oldest prepared alcoholic drinks. The earliest archaeological evidence of fermentation consists of 13,000-year-old residues of a beer with the consistency of gruel, used by the seminomadic Natufians for ritual feasting, at the Raqefet Cave in the Carmel Mountains near Haifa in Israel. There is evidence that beer was produced at Göbekli Tepe during the Pre-Pottery Neolithic (around 8500 BC to 5500 BC). The earliest clear chemical evidence of beer produced from barley dates to about 3500–3100 BC, from the site of Godin Tepe in the Zagros Mountains of western Iran. It is possible, but not proven, that it dates back even further—to about 10,000 BC, when cereal was first farmed. Beer is recorded in the written history of ancient Iraq and ancient Egypt, and archaeologists speculate that beer was instrumental in the formation of civilizations. Approximately 5000 years ago, workers in the city of Uruk (modern day Iraq) were paid by their employers with volumes of beer. During the building of the Great Pyramids in Giza, Egypt, each worker got a daily ration of four to five litres of beer, which served as both nutrition and refreshment that was crucial to the pyramids' construction.
